General background of the event

7th Regional Meeting of NGOs Children's Rights Coalitions in Europe Sofia, 28th - 30th April 2014

The European regional meeting of child rights coalitions involves experts and practitioners in monitoring the implementation of the UNCRC and children's rights in their countries. This meeting will be the seventh, following Berlin (1998), Stockholm (1999), Vilnius (2002), Brussels (2005), Bucharest (2008) and Florence (2010). It will take place in Sofia, Bulgaria, from 28-30 April 2014, hosted by the National Network for Children.

Following the entry into force of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC), the number of national coalitions of NGOs working for children's rights has increased steadily. This growth was largely in response to the opportunity for NGOs to submit information to the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child when it was to consider the report of a given State party. At their initial regional meeting in Berlin in 1998, child rights NGO coalitions in Europe decided to create a periodic forum where they could share their child rights advocacy experiences and discuss how they could best promote implementation of the CRC in their countries and at European level, and strategies to maximize cooperation. Since then, the work of coalitions has grown to include reporting on the Optional Protocols to the CRC on Children Involved in Armed Conflict, as well as on the Sale of Children, Child Prostitution and Child Pornography.

Looking ahead, the third Optional Protocol to the CRC to establish a communications procedure for children, opened for ratification on 28 February 2012. It currently has ten States Parties, including six States from the region, and will enter into force on 14 April 2014. Bringing complaints to the Committee on the Rights of the Child under this Optional Protocol will be both a new opportunity and challenge for national child rights NGO coalitions as they seek to use the Optional Protocol to influence appropriate access to justice for children at the national level.

The approach of the Regional Meeting is based on broad participation of national child rights NGO coalitions through a series of workshops, presentations and discussions aimed at sharing experiences, expertise and knowledge in the area of child rights. The meeting will also be an opportunity for national coalitions to learn about recent developments in the Committee's working methods and how to engage effectively in the activities of the Committee. In particular, NGO coalitions will discuss the engagement of children in the work of the Committee.

The meeting will strengthen the positions and common work of child rights NGO coalitions across Europe in advocating for advancements in child rights within Europe and participating in related decision-making processes. The project will promote further understanding of the CRC and its Optional Protocols and will advocate for sustained implementation of children's rights in the current economic climate. In this context, discussions will focus on the crucial role of child rights NGOs for monitoring the implementation of the CRC and its Optional Protocols. Two of the workshops are going to create links the EU, including the European Commission Recommendation on Investing in Children and one on mainstreaming of children's rights in EU, national, regional and local policies. One of the workshops will focus on how EU accession and neighboring countries can use EU legislation and policies to advance children's rights. This would be helpful for the national NGOs in their work both at national, regional and international level to advance child rights.
